“inspiration and technical knowledge
are our strengths”

Expertise and secrets

Creating a perfume is an ancient art form, where age-old secrets are revealed only to an elite group of alchemists.

Inspiration and technical knowledge are the prerogatives of those able to gift a sensory experience that is both precious and unique, and for those like ourselves, who do our utmost, so that anyone in any part of world can enjoy and benefit from this.

Perfume and beauty care logistics requires both specific knowledge and experience by all involved along the entire supply chain.

Our secret lies in our capability to offer solutions that make these shipments not only possible but above all by optimising the entire process, ensuring sustainability and competitiveness in terms of both costs and timings.

“Opening doors to new worlds”

introducing perfume logistics

Perfumery products (perfumes, home fragrances, candles and cosmetics) are often classified in the various Dangerous Goods categories.

They are severely regulated and restricted, requiring very specific and sometimes more problematic logistics processes that greatly differ from those applied to general cargo.

Accessibility to international markets is the biggest challenge that producers face; often hampered if not completely hindered by unsustainable costs and unsolvable problems.

Those taking care of these shipments must be aware of a long series of procedures, restrictions and authorisations that regulate the movement of this type of commodity, based on the country of arrival.

Only a specifically targeted logistics process that efficiently coordinates each step of the process, whether this be linked to export procedures, shipment preparation,

Customs clearance at destination, through to final delivery, is able to pre-empt and if necessary immediately resolve any eventuality or unforeseen circumstance.

“A highly specialised DGR team
at your service”

Who we are and how we work

Savitransport Perfume Logistics is a division of Savitransport S.p.A., a multinational company based in Florence, Italy, with offices worldwide.

The division was created to meet the specific requests for logistics in the sectors linked to perfumery, home fragrance, beauty care and candles.

The aim of the Perfume Logistics Division is to offer a complete, quality orientated logistics project that ensures clients continued assistance and dedicated services, global coverage and unlimited access to international markets.

Our renowned experience in this very specific field has allowed us to create a dedicated and highly skilled team of experts who have been managing perfumery shipments and beauty care products for very many years.

We are honoured to have as Perfume Division clients many of the world's most prestigious and exclusive brands. Our specialised PLD teams are DGR trained and certified, regularly attending refresher courses and seminars.

In-house studies are carried out to analyse market trends; we have regular meetings to discuss case studies, new international implementations as well as updates via our internal newsletters.

“We are with you
from production to delivery”

What we can offer

Savitransport Perfume Logistics offers a complete consultancy service together with integrated shipping solutions; from how to prepare goods for transport, shipping, Customs Clearance to the delivery of products classified in the Dangerous Goods categories.

Based on a detailed study of each proposed shipment a specific logistics project is created that includes how to optimise both loading space, costs as well as timings involved. Our work is in complete synergy with the client, aiming to create a personalised template for the management of their international orders by working with their various offices, from production to sales to warehousing, to ensure each department's priorities are met. Apart from the more obvious logistical aspects, we can also assist and advise regarding:

- Labelling and special carton markings as needed,
- In choosing the correct and approved packaging,
- In issuing special documentation (Multimodal IMO, DGD, etc.),
- With operative training,
- With Customs assistance and insurance coverage.

“Our secret ingredients”

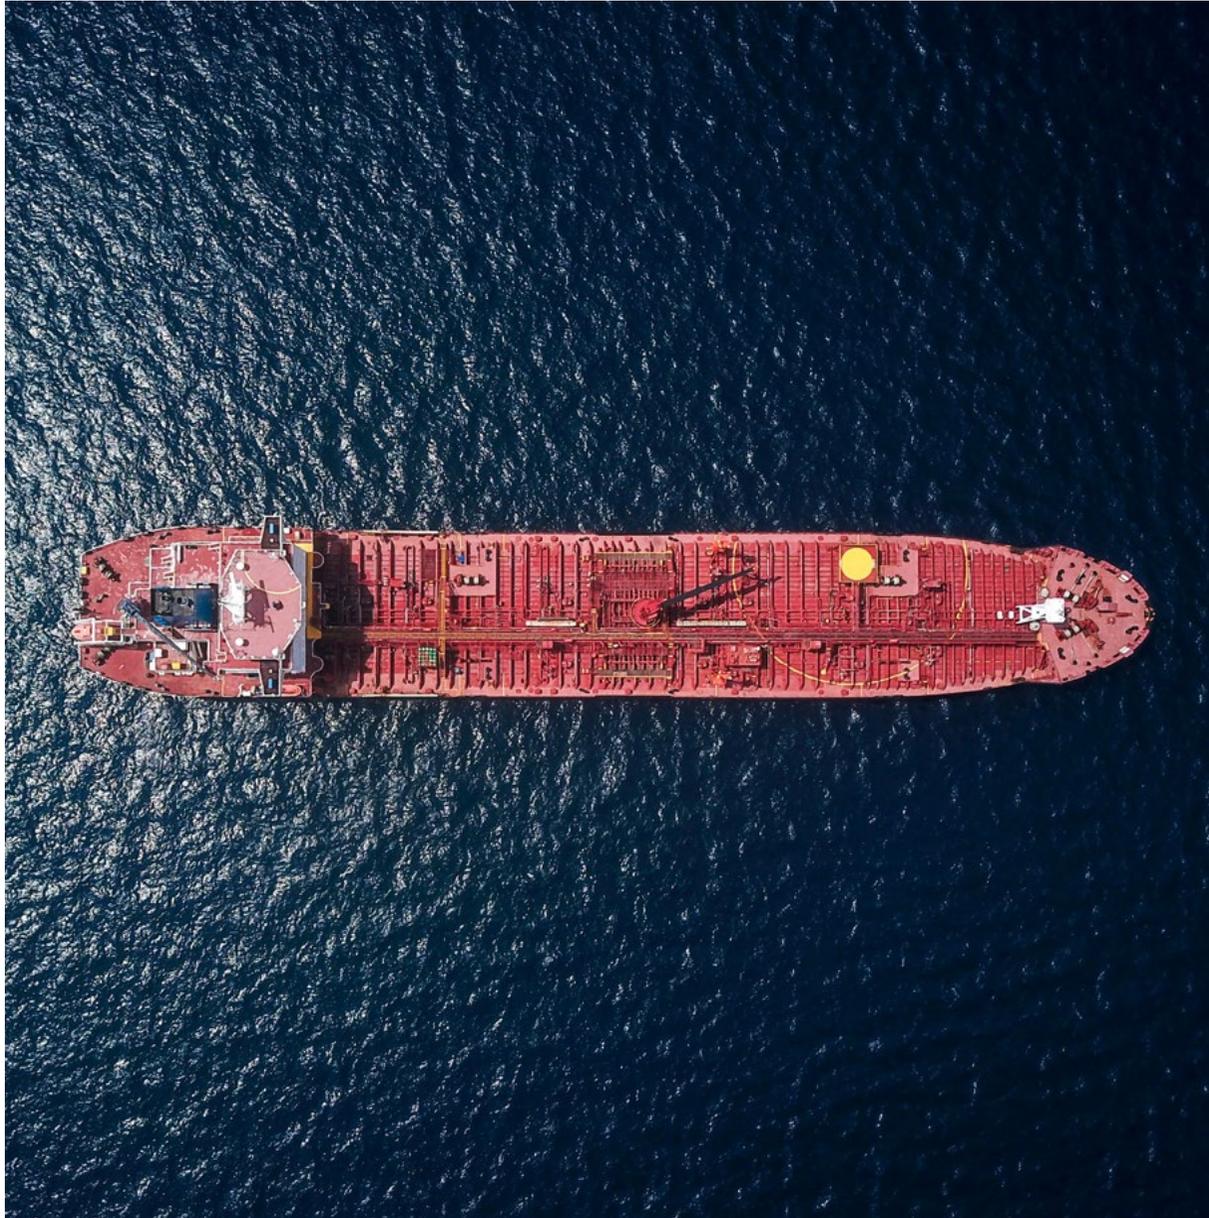

Training

A business strategy that aims at accessing international marketplaces cannot ignore the necessity of creating a specific programme for managing shipments.

One of the most important phases of this delicate organizational process is without doubt the need for specialised operative training.

Having specifically trained personnel is a cornerstone that allows the workflow to move seamlessly from production to shipping, able to optimise both costs and delivery timelines for products destined throughout the world.

Savitransport Perfume Logistics, with well over a decade of experience in this complex but wonderfully fascinating field, represents an absolute point of reference in this specific sector of DGR logistics.
